POETICAL.
OUR CHILDHOOD.
BY GEO. D. FRENCH.

'Tis sad, yet sweet, to listen
To the soft wind's gentle swell
And think we hear the music
Our childhood loved so well;
To gaze out on the even,
And the boundless fields of air,
And feel again our boyhood's wish
To roam like angels there.

There are many dreams of gladness
That cling around the past--
And from the tomb of feeling
Old thoughts come thronging fast--
The forms we loved so dearly
In the happy days now gone,
The beautiful and lovely,
So fair to look upon.

These bright and gentle maidens,
Who seemed so gentle and mild,
To the glowing and heavenly
For such a world as this;
Whose dark soft eyes seemed swimming
In a sea of liquid light;
And whose locks of gold were streaming
O'er brows so sunny bright.

Like the brightest beads of summer
The dew falls from the stem;
Yet 'tis a lovely death
To fade from earth like them!
And yet the thought is saddening
To muse on such as they,
And feel that all the beautiful
Are passing fast away.

That the fair ones whom we love,
Grow to each loving breast,
Like tendrils of the clinging vine--
Then perish where they rest.

"SONGERS."
BY ALBERT THOMAS, Esq.
Such a very proud female was Nancy Kerfoot;
A very proud female was she--
A girl couldn't much prouder be;
Now Nancy Kerfoot was adverse to a kiss,
But why, I have never could see.
But one simple fact will account for all this--
A girl what lively engender was she.

FALL, OH, FALL.
BY CHARLES MACKAY.
Fall, oh, fall, ye words of anger,
Like the leaves when autumn blows;
Like the May-blooms in the river,
Like the snows on the snows.
Fall like seed in barren places,
Fall like rain-drops in the sea;
Idle words fore-doomed to perish,
Lost between my toes and me.

We cut the following advertisement
from the Herald:
"Lost on Wednesday last a brindle pup
--with a switch tail--belonging to Patrick McNeil got his ears slit is not stated.

When you go 'out to drown yourself,
always pull off your clothes, they may fit your wife's second husband.

Why are Mrs. Ellis writings like the muddy condition of streets? Because they tend to elevate female habits.

HUMOROUS.

CHEAP TOOTH-DRAWING.

Cheapness, with a very large class of persons, is ever the strongest recommendation of an article, or the decisive reason for selecting a particular agent to perform a service. Such rarely enlarge in speaking of what they have bought, or had done, of the good quality or good work obtained, but on the low price at which the one or the other has been secured.
As a general thing, they do not get any more than they bargain for; and, in a few cases, they receive rather less.

What do you ask for pulling a tooth?
he asked of Forcops, on entering his office. A swollen and inflamed cheek showed that he stood in need of professional aid.

"Fifty cents," was replied.
"Never gave but a quarter," said the sufferer, in as decided voice as pain would allow him to assume.

"My charge is fifty cents," replied the operator, in quite as decided a manner.
"Can't pay so much. Quarter is enough. You have only to put on your teeth and it's out in three seconds. Wish I had as much as I could do at pulling teeth at a quarter a piece. Come now, friend, money is money these times--"

"Don't you never pull teeth for a quarter?"
"Sometimes," replied the dentist, whose sense of the ridiculous love for a practical joke had become excited.

"Then you'll pull mine for that price,"
said the patient.

"O yes, if you wish me to do so," was answered.

Down sat the patient, and the dentist was soon cutting away at his gums in the coolest and most deliberate way imaginable.

"My gracious!" exclaimed the sufferer, as soon as the gum cutting operation was over. "But you do hurt me dreadfully!"
The dentist now applied a pair of forceps to the offending tooth, and gave it a wrench which fairly brought the patient to his feet.

"Is it out, doctor?" was eagerly asked.
"Not yet," coolly replied the dentist.
"Sit down again, and I'll make another trial!"

So the man sat down once more, and the forceps were again applied. There was another severe wrench; but the tooth refused to come.

"Mercy on us, doctor! Is this the way you pull teeth?" screamed the patient, as he seized the dentist's hand with a nervous grip.

"It's the way I pull teeth for a quarter," replied the dentist, with a twinkle in his eyes, which the other, even in his pain, did not fail to see.

"Pull mine for fifty cents, then," quickly returned the writing victim.

"That's the way it done," said Forcops,
a moment after, as, with a dexterous motion of his practiced hand he removed,
with comparatively slight pain, the tooth from its socket, and held it up to the patient's view.

The half dollar was paid; and the man departed with a drawing perception in his mind, that cheap things are, sometimes,
the dearest a man can buy.

KING'S EVIL, OR TWO IN A BED.

Good stories are now so scarce, none should be lost, and the following, told by Mr. J. H. McKiver, the Yankee comedian, is among the best we have heard:

At a small village, not a thousand miles off, a number of stages arrived, filled with passengers, who were obliged to stop at a small tavern, in which there was no great supply of beds. The landlord said that the should be obliged to put two or three gentlemen (who were, by the way, nearly all strangers to one another) together, and requested they would "take partners." Stage coaches are filled with all sorts of people, and bed-fellows should be selected with care. Everybody seemed to hesitate. Mr McKiver, who was one of the passengers, had made up his mind to snooze in his chair, or have a bed to himself. He saw that his only chance to get a bed to himself was by his wits and walking up to the register entered his name, and remarked: "I am willing to sleep with any gentleman, but I have the king's evil, and it is contagious."

"The king's evil!" said every one; and the landlord looking "thunderstruck," remarked, as he eyed Mac rather closely,
"I'll see, sir, what I can do for you by yourself." In a short time Mac was encumbered in the landlord's bed, who slept on the floor to accommodate strangers.

In the morning, while all were preparing for breakfast, a fellow-traveler accosted the comedian with, "Pray, sir, what is the complaint of which you spoke last night?"
"The nature!" drawled out Mac, a little nonplussed for an answer.

"Yes sir; I never heard of such a disease before."

"Why," said Mac, brightening up, "I thought every one knew. It is a disease of long standing. Its first appearance in America was during the Revolutionary War, when it took off some of the best men or country contained. At the battle of New Orleans it amounted to an epidemic; and since the arrival of Kossuth in this country it has broken out afresh
in many places."

"Indeed!" said the stranger. "I confess I have never heard of such."

"Perhaps not," said Mac, "for it generally goes by another name."

"And what may that be?"
"Republicanism," laughingly replied Mac, as he turned away to arrange his toilet for breakfast.

A cheerful face is nearly as good for an invalid as healthy weather.

MIND WHAT YOU SAY.

It is well to avoid saying every thing that is improper. But it is especially so before children. And here parents, as well as others, are often in fault. Children have as many ears as grown persons, and they are generally more attentive to what is said before them. What they hear they are very apt to repeat, and as they have not discretion and knowledge of the world enough to disguise anything, it is generally found that "children and fools speak the truth."
"See that little boy's eyes glenish while you are speaking of a neighbor, in language you would not wish to have repeated. He does not fully understand what you mean, but he will remember every word, and it will be strange if he does not cause you to blush by its repetition."

A gentleman was in the habit of calling at a neighbor's house, and the lady had always expressed to him great pleasure from his calls. One day, just after she had expressed to him, as usual, her happiest from his visit, her little boy entered the room. The gentleman took him on his knee, and asked,

"Are you not glad to see me, George?"
"No, sir!" replied the boy.
"Why not, my little man?" he continued.

"Because mother don't want you to come," said George.

"Indeed! how do you know that, George?"

Here the mother was crimson, and looked daggers at the little son. But he saw nothing, and therefore replied,

"Because she said, yesterday, that she wished that old bore would not call here again."

"That was enough. The gentleman's hat was soon in requisition, and he left,
with that impression that "great is left,
and it will prevail."

Another little child, looking sharply in the face of a visitor, and being asked what she meant by it, replied--

"I wanted to see whether you had a drop in your eyes; I heard mother say you had frequently."

A boy once asked one of his father's guests who lived next door to him; and when he heard his name, he asked if he was not a fool!

"No, my little friend," replied the guest, "he is not a fool, but a very sensible man. But why did you ask that question?"

"Because," replied the boy, "mother said, the other day, that you were next door to a fool, and I wanted to know who lived next door to you."

THE NATURAL BOUNDARY OF THE UNITED STATES.

A story in print wants the manner, tone and life-like humor of the narrator. Yet, at the risk of injustice to Lieutenant M. we venture to publish that which he told at the dinner of the Chamber of Commerce.

Soon after Texas was annexed, an officer named Boyle, commanding an American vessel in the Mediterranean, was touched at Gibraltar and was invited to dine with Spofford, commander of an English vessel at that place. When dining was over and the wine flowed freely, the subject of the annexation was introduced.

"And so," says Spofford, "I see you of the United States have annexed Texas."
"Yes, we have," said Boyle.

"Well, you are a peculiar people."
"Yes, we do everything in a peculiar way."

"Do you intend to go on annexing?"
"Certainly."

"And when do you intend to stop?"
"Stop! Why, when we get the natural boundaries of the United States."

"The natural boundaries of the United State! and what are they?" says Spofford.

"The Equator and Aurora borealis," replied Boyle.

The narrator said not whether the dialogue ended here, but the hearers do consider it a good stopping place, and so do we--S. C. Standard.

GOING TO LAW.

"Lawing" is pretty well shown up in the following anecdote of two Dutchmen, who built and used in common a small bridge over a stream, which ran through their farms. It seems they had a dispute concerning certain repairs which it required, after a time--

One of them declined to bear any portion of the expenses necessary to the purchase of two or three new planks. Finally, the aggrieved party went to the neighboring lawyer, and placing ten dollars in his hand, "I'll give you all dismissed, if you will make Hans do justice mit te prieg."

"How much will it cost to repair the bridge?" asked the honest Counsellor of the determined litigant.

"Well, den, not more ash five dollar,"
replied the Dutchman.

"Very well," said the lawyer, pocket-ing one of the notes and giving him the other, "take this and go and get the bridge repaired; it is the best course you can take."

"Yes," said the Dutchman, slowly, "y-aa-s, dat ish more better as to quarrel mit Hans."

As he went along home, he shook his head inquiringly, as if unable, after all,
to see how he gained anything by going to law.

AN IRISH JOKE.--A shoemaker with one eye who works in this neighborhood, complained the other evening that his lamps did not burn. One of his shop-mates, who is a genuine son of the Emerald Isle with astonishment exclaimed-- "Faith, and what do you want of two lamps, ye hav'n't but one eye."

Why are seeds, when sown, like gate-posts? They are planted in the earth to propagate (prop a gate).

town the following sums, viz:--Each Circus the sum of Twenty-Five dollars, and each Menagerie the sum of Ten dollars for every day the same may be exhibited.
And on failure to pay, the same may be proceeded against by warrant before the Police Judge, or any Justice of the Peace of Boyle county, and, further, the Marshal shall, unless payment is made as above prohibited such exhibitions, and for that purpose, may summon to his aid the power of the town. All other shows, exhibitions and concerts within said town, shall pay a Tax of Ten dollars, when the price of admission thereto is fifty cents, and Five Dollars, when the price of admission thereto is twenty-five cents.

Sec. 25.--Upon all sums collected by the Marshal for fines, and taxes on shows concerts and pedlars, he may retain in his hands 10 per cent, as compensation for his services. On all fines inflicted for violation of these ordinances by the Police Judge or Justice, he shall receive for his compensation 6 per cent, to be paid to him in the bill of costs, and collected from the defendant. He may also receive 40 cents for putting in and releasing any person from Jail or Work-house. And the Jail or keeper of said Work-house shall be entitled to receive 50 cents for each and every day any free person may be kept in the said Jail under or for a violation of any of the ordinances of said town.

Sec. 26.--Every free person found guilty of being drunk within said town, or who shall be guilty of profane cursing or swearing therein, shall, for each offence of being drunk, or profane cursing or swearing, be fined Two dollars.

Sec. 27.--The Marshal of said town is directed to take up and sell each and every hog found running at large in the town of Danville, for the highest price to be had for cash in hand, and after retaining 25 cents for each and every hog so sold, as a compensation for his services, shall pay to the owner the balance, if known,
and if not known, then into the Treasury of the town.

Sec. 28.--The several offences and fines mentioned in the foregoing sections, and which may be hereafter imposed by virtue of any ordinance hereafter enacted, shall be tried and inflicted either before the Police Judge of the town of Danville, or some Justice of the Peace for the county of Boyle, and where by the provisions of any of the foregoing sections or by the provisions of any section of an ordinance hereafter enacted, a fine of as great a sum as Twenty dollars, for any offence therein specified may be inflicted,
the Marshal or other officer executing the warrants, shall at the instance of the defendant, or defendants, summon and empanel a jury to appear at the time and place set for trial, and by whom the charge shall be tried. And when any fine shall be imposed as aforesaid, it shall be the duty of the Police Judge or Justice rendering judgment, to issue a capias pro fine, for the amount of said fine and costs, and the defendant or defendants therein, may, if he or they chooses, relieve the same for three months by executing a bond payable to the Trustees of the town of Danville, for the amount of said fine and costs, with good security, bearing interest from date, which shall be taken by the Marshal or other officer having the said capias pro fine in his hands, and upon which, when due, $10 may issue, if not paid. And if the defendant shall fail to pay, or replevy the same as above, it shall then be the duty of the officer having said capias pro fine to convey and safely put in the watch-house the defendant there to be safely kept until a period of time shall expire, which at the rate of Two dollars per day, will pay off and discharge the said fine and costs.

DAVENVILLE, KY.,
Friday Morning, June 18 1852.

Whig Ticket for 1852,
Subject to the decision of the Whig National Convention.

For President,
MILLARD FILLMORE,
OF NEW YORK.

For Vice President,
JOHN J. RITTENDEN,
OF KENTUCKY.

LADIES' FAIR.—We are requested to state that the Ladies of the Protestant Episcopal Church in this place, will hold a Fair on the day preceding and Commencement day of Centre College—Wednesday and Thursday, 23d and 24th insts. The proceeds of the Fair will be appropriated to refit and paint their church. We trust that the liberal patronage which they deserve, will be cheerfully extended to them.

CORRECTION.—We were in error last week in stating that the address of Rev. STUART R. BROWN, before the Literary Societies of Centre College would be delivered on Tuesday evening, the 22d inst. We should have said Wednesday evening, the 23d.

COMMENCEMENT OF CENTRE COLLEGE.—The annual Commencement of Centre College will take place on Thursday next, the 24th. Addresses will be delivered by several members of the graduating class, which together with the other regular Commencement exercises, will render the occasion quite interesting.

AUCTION.—The auction sale of Kennard & Co., which has created such an excitement among the ladies during the past week, will be continued on Monday next. They offer a splendid stock, which their past sales have not at all lessened, so far as regards quality and variety. See advertisement.

ATTENTION, STOCKHOLDERS.—A meeting of the stockholders of the Lexington and Danville Railroad will be held in this place on Tuesday next, the 22d inst., for the purpose of taking final action on the subject of the extension of said road to McMinnville, Tenn. Let every one attend.

WE publish to-day a very interesting article from the pen of CLAYTON MILLER, Esq., of Adams county, on the subject of the proposed railroad from this place to McMinnville, Tenn. All who feel interested in said road should give Mr. M.'s thoughts on the subject a careful perusal, as they are such as cannot fail to commend themselves to the common sense of every man, however much he may be opposed to railroad improvements—though such men, we are glad to say, are becoming quite rare at this enlightened day.

RAILROAD MEETING.—A large meeting of the citizens of Claiborne county, Tenn., friendly to the proposed railroad from Danville to Knoxville, was held on the 7th inst. It was a highly favorable one, and the contemplated work were set on foot, and a number of delegates appointed to attend the Railroad Convention to be held at Cumberland Gap, on the 5th day of July. We have received the full proceedings, but they reached us too late for insertion this week.

MR. CLAY.—The last accounts from Mr. Clay represent no decided change in his situation. Every one regards his hour of dissolution as near at hand, but come when it may, he will be found calm and undismayed, and ready to go when called.

CHOLERA.—The cholera in Mayville has abated much in violence. The total number of deaths from the 6th to the 15th inst., were 32, but at last accounts, there were but a few mild cases reported.

In Louisville, and other cities on the river, there have been several deaths, but not sufficient to excite alarm.

Nearly every boat from New Orleans to any of the Western ports, has more or less cholera on board—generally, however, among the deck passengers.

At New Orleans during the week ending June 5, there were 130 deaths from cholera.

HIS NAME.—The Locofoco quill-drivers in this State seemed, a week or two ago, to be at variance among themselves, as to the real name of their nominee for the Presidency. By one he was called H. M. Franklin Pierce; by another Gen. Franklin Pierce; by others F. O. Pierce, F. H. Pierce, and F. D. Pierce. Now, however, they all know him and can call him "Frank Pierce" with as much liberty and nonchalance as if they had known him intimately for half a century, and had even "fought, bled and died" with him on the bloody fields of Mexico. Curious chaps, these Locofoco editors.

WHIG NATIONAL CONVENTION.—We have no news concerning the deliberations of this body. The result of its meeting is of course doubtful, and the anxiety to hear from it being very great we will issue any important news we receive in an extra.

A despatch dated Baltimore, June 11, says: "Webster stock is rising rapidly. Delegates to the Whig Convention are arriving fast and thick. The calculations of the Maryland Central Committee is, that on the first ballot Fillmore will receive 133, Scott 120, and Webster 44. A number of Scott delegates will prefer Webster to Fillmore, and some of the Fillmore delegates prefer Webster to Scott. The Hon. Edward Everett has been named as President of the Convention, but ill health will prevent his attendance.

Another despatch, bearing date of Washington, June 14, says: Many delegates have arrived from the Southern States, the delegations of which are unanimous for Fillmore. The Northern delegates are divided among their candidates.

CASEY COUNTY.—We were at Liberty on Monday last, county court day for Casey, and we have rarely ever been better pleased with a visit. We were well treated during our stay, both by the citizens, who considerably increased our subscription list, and by our old friend C. F. FRY, of the Exchange Hotel, who is himself a splendid host and his good lady a perfect hostess. A universal enthusiasm seems to prevail in the county in favor of the proposed Southwestern Railroad from this place to McMinnville, Tenn. Casey county will do at least as much for the work as she has promised, and we think several thousand dollars more.

At the solicitation of the friends of the above enterprise, our fellow citizen, F. T. F. F. F., addressed the citizens in one of the most convincing and satisfactory displays of eloquence and reason we have heard for a long time. All present were thoroughly satisfied from the facts presented that this road, when completed, will be of incalculable advantage and that the stock will prove to be a good investment of capital.

LATER.—A despatch from Baltimore, dated 15th, says: "The general impression here is that Fillmore or Webster will be nominated."

In Cumberland, Clinton, and Adair counties the prospect for a crop of tobacco is said to be very "gloomy indeed." Plants are very scarce and backward, and there seems to be a disposition among planters not to raise the article.

GEN. SCOTT AND THE COMPROMISE.—A despatch from Washington, under date of the 7th, says: It is currently reported at the Capitol to day that Fitz Henry Warren has in his possession a letter from General Scott endorsing thoroughly the Compromise Measures, to be sent to the Whig Convention, in case of his nomination. This letter is said to have been exhibited to several Southern Whig delegates to the Convention.

DISSENT.—Under the head of "New Advertisements," a commentary announces that the old political firm of CASE & BUTLER has been dissolved by the death of the senior members of the firm, who was strangled at Baltimore by the two-thirds rule. The business of the firm did not turn out well, and the junior will retire in private life.

NOMINATION OF VICE PRESIDENT.—The first ballot for Vice President, in the Baltimore Convention, resulted as follows: W. R. King, of Alabama, 125; Wm. O. Butler, 21; Robert Strang, 23; L. W. Davis, 30; John B. Weller, 27; G. J. Pillow, 26; David R. Anderson, 25; Howell Cobb, 2; Gen. Rusk, 13; Jeff. Davis, 2.

The Kentucky Delegation voted for Rusk and not for Butler, as has been stated.

On the second ballot, Wm. R. King, of Alabama, received 277 votes, and Jefferson Davis, of Mississippi, 11 from Illinois where upon Mr. King was declared duly nominated.

FROM THE PLAINS.—A letter from Major Stein's command of recruits for the army in New Mexico, dated on the 20th ult., at Potwaritan camp, sixty miles from Fort Leavenworth, mentions the death of fourteen of the command, by cholera, and another was not expected to survive. At the date of the letter one-fourth of the whole number were on the sick report. This is dismal enough.

The command was composed of about 300 men.

FROM CUBA.—Invasion Expected.—The New York Sun says that great excitement prevails throughout Cuba, from reports of another filibustering expedition from the United States. The Steamers from the isthmus were watched with a strictest surveillance even for Havana. Members of the police were placed on board as soon as they arrived, and maintained the strictest surveillance of every body and every thing up to the moment of departure. Fourteen young men of good connections were arrested and confined in prison on Friday, the 23d of May, on suspicion of being connected with the revolutionary party.

We will state, for the satisfaction of friend Gibbons, of the Ploughboy, that our remark last week to the effect that Pierce was "not even a fourth or fifth-rate man" was intended only to refer to his prominence as a leading Democrat. We repeat it, and more, he is not even a "fifth-rate man" in talents statesmanship, if we are allowed to consider that Cass, Buchanan, Douglass, Butler, Marcy, &c., are not entirely defunct and are still members, "alive and kicking," of the Democratic party. These distinguished gentlemen have considerable notoriety as either statesmen, soldiers, or patriots, and are known to every one as having rendered valuable service to their country in some way. Gen. Pierce, however, has had abundant opportunities, but has left his mark nowhere—has been in the Senate and in War, but did nothing; achieved nothing, in either his civil or military position worthy of note. What a man! and still he is taken up as the candidate of the Democrats for the highest office in the world.

Our good neighbor Gibbons appears to be remarkably crusty since the nomination of Pierce by the Democratic Convention. Don't take on so, neighbor, but swallow the pill, bitter though it be, with as few wry faces as possible. Victims of the log cabin and hard cider of '40, and the disastrous overthrow of Locofocoism in '48 already begin to haunt his imagination, and as he sees nothing in the future but another defeat of his party, we don't wonder at his being ill-natured—but, poor fellow, how we pity him.

N. P. WILLIS, Esq., editor of the Home Journal, and distinguished as a literary writer, is now sojourning at the Harrodsburg Springs, under Hydropathic treatment. His health is said to be very bad.

We are indebted to Jas. PARROUR, Esq., for a copy of the report of the President and Engineer of the Lexington and Danville Railroad Company, to the Stockholders. We have not yet had time to examine it, but when we do, we will take occasion to publish such extracts as may be deemed particularly interesting.

"AIN'T WE JOOLY?"—As the Democrats look upon the head and foot notes which the lapidaries at Baltimore recently selected to mark the grave of modern Democracy, they make an execrable attempt to whistle up their courage. Listen to the Ohio Plaindealer:

"Those names, Pierce and King, will kindle a fire in the heart of Democracy which will not cease till the rotten remains of whiggery are burned up—and Galphina, Austro-Americans, and all the branches of that political upstart shall be destroyed forever."

"Man soars away into the regions of fancy and imagination—so does a hen!"

Late news from Mexico is really distressing. The country seems to be beyond the verge of, and already in the vortex of ruin. A report from the Minister of War represents the Republics threatened on all sides—from Tehuantepec from Lower California, which has been invaded by a party of adventurers; from Sonora, where an expedition is expected of adventurers and savages, from Chihuahua, where a revolution is on the eve of breaking out, headed by the Governor; from Samuillas, which is menaced by adventurers, who have again united on the other side of the Rio Grande, from Utah, where it will be necessary to suspend the operations against the Indians from want of funds; and in the interior, which is verging toward anarchy.

Scheidel has been convicted in St. Louis for the murder of Weider, the consular agent, and sentenced to ninety-nine years imprisonment in the penitentiary.

Whig editors seem wonderfully anxious to convince the world of their own ignorance and stupidity. If they know so little of their country's history as to be entirely ignorant of the part Gen. Pierce has borne, for years past, both in the councils of the Nation and on the battle field when his services were required, they should certainly endeavor to conceal, rather than parade and boast of their glaring ignorance of facts that ought to be in the possession of every intelligent Journalist.

Harrodsburg Ploughboy.

Truly, Gen. Pierce, according to Gibbons, is a wonderful man. We acknowledge our own ignorance concerning him, for really we had never heard his name mentioned in any connection, more than once or twice before he received the nomination. As to his civil services rendered the country, they exist only in the imagination of his partisans, and we have it from a very reliable contemporary that during his military career in Mexico, he failed just on the eve of an engagement. What caused such extreme nervousness at that particular time our friend does not state.

ANOTHER INVASION OF MEXICO.—The Washington correspondent of the N. Y. Journal of Commerce writes:

From various sources we learn that an expedition is in preparation in the southwestern part of the United States to invade the northern provinces of Mexico, and wrest them from the dominion of the central power of Mexico, and establish their independence. What this government can do to prevent it more, than it has one, does not appear.

DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM.—The platform adopted by the late Democratic Convention may be summed up, in a few words, as follows:—Against Internal Improvement by the General Government against assumption of State debts by the General Government; against a Protective Tariff; against a National Bank; against the distribution of the proceeds of the public lands; in favor of the Presidential Vote; in favor of the Sub-Treasury. Resolutions approving the "Virginia and Kentucky Resolutions of 1798," and endorsing the late Mexican War, and rejoicing at the restoration of peace, were also adopted. On the subject of the Compromise and Slavery, the following resolutions were passed:

Resolved, That Congress has no power under the Constitution to interfere with or control the domestic institutions of the several States, and that such States are the sole and proper judges of every thing appertaining to their own affairs not prohibited by the Constitution; that all efforts of the Abolitionists or others made to induce Congress to interfere with questions of slavery, or to take ineffectual steps in relation thereto, are calculated to lead to the most alarming and dangerous consequences; and that all such efforts have an inevitable tendency to diminish the stability and permanency of the Union, and ought not to be countenanced by any friend of our political institutions.

Resolved, That the foregoing proposition covers and was intended to embrace the whole subject of slavery agitation in Congress; and therefore the Democratic party of the Union, standing upon this national platform, will abide by and adhere to a faithful execution of the act known as the Compromise measures, enacted by the last Congress—the act for the reclaiming of fugitives from service or labor included—which act, being designed to carry out an express provision of the Constitution, cannot, with fidelity thereto, be repealed or so changed as to destroy or impair its efficiency.

Resolved, That the Democratic party will resist all attempts at renewing, in Congress, or out of it, the agitation of the slavery question, under whatever shape or color the attempt may be made.

THE PILL SWALLOWED.—The following are the responses of the defunct politicians who were prominently bal of d f r in the Democratic Convention, but who were finally pierced and laid on the shelf:

From Stephen A. Douglas: "I congratulate the Democratic party upon the nomination, and Illinois will give Franklin Pierce a large majority than any other State in the Union."

From General Cass: "A good nomination, that of General Pierce, I shall support heartily."

From General Houston: "An excellent nomination; it will unite the whole Democracy."

From Gen. Butler: "I like the nomination better than I had received it myself."

Of course everybody believes that the above professions of gratification at being "killed off" by an outsider, are entirely sincere. Of course they do!

RAILROAD CONVENTION AT RUSSELL SPRINGS.—A Railroad Convention of the friends of the proposed road from Danville to McMinnville, will be held at Russell Springs on the 31st day of July. The occasion will be a highly interesting one, as speeches will be delivered by several gentlemen well qualified to handle the subject. An immense crowd is expected, and if the day is at all favorable, the meeting will equal in numbers and enthusiasm any ever held in the State.

FRENCH RAILROADS.—The Paris correspondent of the N. York Express says: The locomotive on the Orleans railroad have each been furnished with a small magnetic battery, and the engineers to be acquainted with the modus operandi. All the electric lines in France follow the course of the railroad, so that at any point on the railroad the engineer may rig a communication between his machine and the wires, and announce to the station either before or behind him any accident that may have happened. He may thus immediately call for any assistance, he may require, and warn off approaching trains. The experiment has been already several times most successfully tried.

THE SETTING SUN.—Towards the close of the late Whig convention in Richmond, Va., the following resolution was offered by Raleigh T. Daniel, Esq., and was passed in a manner showing that all that was said was felt by the body there assembled:

Resolved, That neither time nor circumstance can erase from the hearts of the Whigs of this nation, their veneration for the character and love and admiration of the genius and eloquence and statesmanship of Henry Clay.

Let others hail the rising sun, We turn to him whose race is run.

The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Sun, in his letter of the 18th inst., says: "To-morrow the House will probably act on the resolution fixing the day for the termination of the session. A paper was handed about the House a week ago, for the members to designate the time of adjournment, and a majority fixed the 15th of August. I presume that will be the day."

DIFFICULTIES WITH MEXICO.—A Washington despatch bearing date of June 9, says: "It is believed that the Senate have been in executive session for the past two days, considering our relations with Mexico, which are said to be in a very troublous condition."

MAINE ELECTION.—The special election for a representative in Congress from the fourth district of Maine has resulted in the success of the Hon. Isaac Reed, Whig, by 600 majority. This is a Whig gain.

THE TRIAL OF ELIZABH WRIGHT for aiding in a fugitive slave to escape.—The jury in the case of Eliza Wright, on trial for some days past, in Boston for aiding the rescue of the fugitive slave Shadrach, came into court unable to agree. They stood eleven for conviction and one for acquittal. This was Wright's second trial on the same charge.

A young man up town says he would pay his respects to some of the young ladies, but they all seem to be engaged—he says that every time he looks at one, she is smiling at some other feller.

BLOODY AFFRAY.—A man by the name of Benjamin Johnson shot another by the name of C. B. Hedges, on Tuesday last, in Taylorsport, Ky. The wounds are supposed to be mortal. Johnson is under arrest.

A MAN SHOT.—A man by the name of Mark Levi was shot in the abdomen, at Leeslick, in Harrison county, Ky., on the 7th inst., by a man named Wm. Hamilton. He was supposed to be mortally wounded. Hamilton afterwards attempted to poison himself.

The total number of acres of land in Kentucky returned for taxation, are 19,348,672, valued at $146,217,110; making the average price per acre $7.39 cents.

UNCLAIMED BAGGAGE.—At Detroit, last week, 250 unclaimed trunks, valises, and packages were sold at the railroad depot. The amount realized by the sale was $600.

THE LITTLE MISSISSIPPI RAILROAD COMPANY have declared a semi-annual dividend, up to 1st inst., $2.50 per share in stock (the shares being $50 each, making an annual dividend of 20 per cent. We learn most of the stockholders prefer taking their cash dividend in stock, as it will, undoubtedly, reach $110 (dividends off before the 1st of next August.

A locofoco editor in this State says he shall "never publish anything without a responsible name." He had better borrow somebody's cognomen to stick at the head of his paper, if responsibility is trumps.

SHADOW CATCHING.—Baldridge is now taking fine Daguerreotypes for $1.50. See advertisement.

STEPHEN WITT, of Danua, Mass., a revolutionary soldier, died on Friday of last week, at the age of 90 years.

KENTUCKY FREE SOILERS.—The late Richmond Messenger contains the proceedings of a meeting of the Emancipationists, or, as they style themselves, the Free Soilers, of Madison county. Delegates were appointed to the National Free-Soil Convention, and a series of ultra anti-slavery resolutions, offered by C. M. Clay, were adopted.

HAVING formed a co-partnership with my son-in-law, Mr. CHRISTOPHER T. LEAVELL, and built an additional number of large airy rooms, I am prepared to accommodate in the most comfortable manner, all who may desire to visit the Springs. My place is situated 15 miles from Crab Orchard, on the Somerset road, and is a very suitable location for those who wish to be removed from the noise of the town, with the privilege, however, of visiting it by a pleasant walk or ride as preferred.

The Mineral Water on my place is abundant and excellent, embracing Chalybeate and Sulphur. There is also a good Epum Spring within a short distance of the house.

Any person desiring Hydropathic treatment can secure the valuable services of Dr. Wm. who will attend to patients at my house.

Our terms shall be moderate, and nothing will be left undone which will conduce to the comfort or pleasure of our visitors.

There is now a daily line of Stages running from Bryantville through Lancaster, to Crab Orchard, and a tri-weekly line from Danville—the former connecting with the stages from Lexington, and the latter with the stages from Louisville.
